Own of the higher questions of politics will be under discussion in Springfield, Mass., this week. It is gratifying to see that the subject of forestry, life that of good reads, is a stracting increased attention, though not as yet pointed to with pride. The American Forestry Association at its present National gathering will sak legislators for action. Our great forests are vanishing. Twenty years ago they covered 700,000,000 acres, and today their area is but $370,000.000 and today their area is but 375,000,000 acres. They are slashed, burned, wasted and swept away without a thought of future penalties, some of which may be not only serious, but calamitous. In forty years Michigan has lost $40,000,-000 by forest fires. Indiana has been stripped of 3,500,000 acres of forest in thirty years. The Government estimate of the daily average cutting of timber in the United States is 27,500 acres. The Forestry Association will ask Congress at the coming session to pass laws for the protection of our forests from fire and from wasteful cutting. The Government has already made a small beginning by setting aside for National use seventeen forest preserves containing 17,500,000 acres. But a comprehensive forestry law is needed, and, in fact, imperatively demanded by every consideration of National prosperity. The business capacity of the Fifty-fourth Congress will be tested by this issue.

EIGHT PAGES! FORTY COLUMNS! $1 50 A YEAR!

Did you ever think that relatives or friends who have moved to distant places—gone West, perhaps, to grow up with the country—are always glad to hear from their "Old Kentneby Home?" And did it vero cour to you that a single copy of This MAYSTHAR REFURILANGED and the weekly edition of The Philés Ledgor—contains more home news than you could embrace in a hundred ordinary letters? And did it ever active you that you can send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can well as letter every week? Resides, don't you think a year's subscription to The REFURILANGE would be a present highly appreciated by those at a distance? Suppose you try it and hear what they have to any on the subject.

Threatment the Baune in 1871.

Criticato, Sept. 13.—A special to an evening paper from Washington says there is no longer any doubt that the United States will within a short period give formal and official aid to the Cuban revolutionista. It may not be a recognition of balligerency, but the recognition of balligerency, but the flowershes and beneficial in the effect. It is now learned on unquestioned suthority that the United States for the second time believes that the opportune occasion has arrived when this povernment should interfere in matinion of its own citizens and interest of rivilization. Cuba is being rapidly transformed into a colony of Americans by reason of a rather peculiar circumstance. The only reason which has bere to for prevented this government is not interfere foreithly in affairs of a friendly foreign power. It has even been interfere foreithly in affairs of a friendly foreign power. ered in the case of spain herself, and occurring during a period of revolution. It is said that the administration will, if necessary, avail itself of this precedent as a form of procedure if all other alternatives fail.

It is shown by the archives of the state department that on November 5, 1875, President Grant having become exasperated beyond endurance, directed Hamilton Fish, then secretary of state, to prepare a complete and thorough statement of the grievances had been supplied by the statement of the grievance state, to prepare a complete and thorough statement of the grievance state, to prepare a complete and thorough statement of the grievance state, to prepare a complete and the control of the statement of the grievance statement of the grievance of the latter.

In the course of this letter Secretary Fish said that he was directed by President Grant to review exhaustively all the matters of fact relating to the embargoed estates of American citizens; that proposed proper redress had long been delayed; that the government of the grievance of the state of the Cuba.

Secretary Olney is emphatic in his position, and it is due to him that the president has decided that the time leans living in Cuba should be recognized to such a degree as to insure their proper treatment by the government of the country in which they live. Just what steps will be taken can not be ascertained at this time, doubt that the United States will interfere.
